WHAT OUR PARTNERS HAVE TO SAY

Mid-Atlantic Cyber needed a robust solution to protect their customers from increasing cyber threats. The team wanted to get as close to real-time threat intelligence as possible and protect their networks without affecting productivity, with a solution that was cost-effective and simple to implement.

Centripetal CleanINTERNET® provided visibility across their branch offices and data centre, alerting the team to potential threats while simultaneously shielding against malicious activity and providing comprehensive threat intelligence reports and logs. Mid-Atlantic Cyber found Centripetal's SOC and NOC resources particularly beneficial, allowing them to analyse and identify areas of improvement within their environment. Centripetal has shielded a vast number of threats that would have gone undetected through Mid-Atlantic's firewalls, including active attacks attempting to circumvent corporate DNS security at a client data centre, unauthorised scanning by threat actors, and fake anti-virus scams.

Implementing CleanINTERNET has given the Mid-Atlantic Cyber team the opportunity to focus on developing their solution and nurturing new business relationships, with the confidence that their infrastructure, and their customers, are protected.

Mid-Atlantic Control Systems, LLC

“The Centripetal CleanINTERNET service, in real-time, is doing something unique and different than the other security stack and firewall componentry that we’ve used traditionally.

It’s very exciting to feel like we’re getting ahead of the curve on the cyber threat landscape.

The personal contact with the Centripetal experts has been really refreshing and educational for me and my team”

Chris Mannix.
